GOVERNOR ADMITS INABILITY TO PREVENT ANARCHISTS FROM BURNING CITY—START PILLAGING HOUSES AND STORES—NEW HOSTAGES ROUNDED UP FOR EXECUTION IF REBELS ENTER
SAN SEBASTIAN, Sept. 11.—Insurgent batteries tonight loosed a "warning bombardment" on besieged San Sebastian as the municipal governor, Anton Ortega, admitted it would be "difficult" to prevent anarchists from burning the city.

The bombardment followed upon an ultimatum from the insurgent General Emilio Mola that his men would "blow the city to pieces" unless it surrendered within forty-eight hours.

WARNED TO LEAVE
An ultimatum printed on small leaflets was dropped from three insurgent bi-motor bombing planes warning all foreigners and civilians to leave the city immediately. The French Ambassador Jean Herbet, ordered evacuation of all French citizens by 6 o'clock in the afternoon (Friday), and closed the French consulate.

SECOND PLANE CROSSES OCEAN
German Machine on Atlantic Tests Lands at Bermuda From Azores
NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (P).—Two German flying boats bobbed at anchor tonight, one in Manhasset Bay, twenty-two miles from New York, and another in Bermuda. The major part of their job of flying the Atlantic accomplished.

The Aerolus, thwarted in one attempt after having been catapulted from the mother ship Schwabenland, landed at the Azores Tuesday night, reached the bay at Hamilton, Bermuda, at 12:31 p.m. P.S.T. today, after a 2,662-mile non-stop flight.

TO COMPLETE FLIGHT
She was to take off tomorrow morning for the 770-mile leg to Manhasset Bay, on Northern Long Island, to join her sister ship, the Zephyr, which arrived here last night after a twenty-two-hour fourteen-minute non-stop flight from the catapult ship living 100 miles off Horta.

The Schwabenland already was reported steaming for New York; to catapult the two flying boats on a return flight. They are correlating weather and other flight data on the Southern route of the North Atlantic preparatory to the establishment of a commercial air line.

WAITERS MAY GO OUT ON STRIKE
Vancouver Hotel and Restaurant Employees Reject Wage-Cut Proposal
VANCOUVER, Sept. 11 (P).—Possibility of a widespread waiters' and cafe strike here loomed tonight, following a decision of members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union to reject a wage cut proposed by the Restaurant Owners' Association.

The proposal of the association said that thirty cafes would apply for membership in the employees' union if the present wage scale of from $12 to $14 per week was reduced to $10 to $12.

"If we can't get a decent living wage, we are prepared to boycott every restaurant in Vancouver not paying employees a sufficient salary," W. Stewart, secretary of the union, said.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH
BELLAIRE, O., Sept. 11 (P).—Fred Herit, twenty-seven, of Vallejo, Calif., and William Fournier, twenty-two, of San Pedro, Calif., were killed here today as their plane went into a spin and crashed.

TRADE RELATIONS RESUMED BY DOMINION AND SOVIET RUSSIA

Embargoes on Each Other's Products Removed Following Negotiations by Trade Minister Euler—Immediate Steps Expected to Accelerate Interchange of Commodities

Considerable Market Will Open for Canadian Goods

OTTAWA, Sept. 11 (P).—Canada and Soviet Russia have resumed friendly trade relations, it was announced tonight by Premier Mackenzie King. Since early in 1931 when each country placed embargoes against imports from the other, trade between them has been relatively small. These embargoes have now been removed.

The Minister Euler, recently returned from Russia, and as an outcome of his negotiations there, he recommended the embargo against Russian goods be lifted, and the Cabinet has put this recommendation into effect. The Soviet Government at the same time rescinded the embargo against Canadian goods.

WILL HAVE STATEMENT
The two countries evidently have gone further than simply ending the stalemate. Intimation of steps to accelerate the interchange of commodities between Canada and Russia was given when the Prime Minister added that Mr. Euler would have a statement in a few days on the subject.

Canada had been the last country of any importance to maintain an embargo against Russia, Mr. King said. Great Britain was energetically seeking trade with the Soviet and had established substantial credits to that end. When asked if Canada likewise would establish credits, Mr. King replied he did not desire to discuss this in view of the forthcoming statement from the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

EMBARGO IMPOSED
Canada by order of Council of February 27, 1931, imposed an embargo on the importation of Russian coal, wood-pulp, pulpwed lumber and timber of all kinds, asbestos and furs. (The embargo continued on Page 2, Column 7)

IS ACTUATING MOTIVE OF CANADA'S DELEGATION TO GENEVA
OTTAWA, Sept. 11 (P).—Maintenance of the friendly relations now existing between the Dominion and all nations would actuate Canada's delegation to the League of Nations assembly, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared tonight on his departure for Geneva. He will head the delegation which sails tomorrow afternoon from Quebec.

"INDISPENSABLE AGENCY"
While he would not comment in any detail on the Government's League policy, the Prime Minister said he was personally of the same mind as when he last spoke on League matters in the House of Commons. At that time he described the League as "that indispensable agency" which was for the reorganization and strengthening of the League.

"But as for Canada's attitude to other nations," the Prime Minister said, "we are in the position of having the good will of all. There is no country with which we are not on the friendliest terms. All the countries that will be represented there are our friends."

LAST STAIN REMOVED
The Prime Minister's statement tonight "officially" after he had announced resumption of trade with Soviet Russia. Removal of those restrictions and the ending of sanctions against Italy, he said, had "removed the last stain" from our recollection of friendship.

"I can see nothing on the horizon anywhere that should interfere with our relations with any country," the Prime Minister continued. "It is our hope that the happy relations we enjoy with other countries may be maintained and engendered among all nations of the world."

TO MAINTAIN FRIENDSHIP

Is Actuating Motive of Canada's Delegation to Geneva

OTTAWA, Sept. 11 (P).—Maintenance of the friendly relations now existing between the Dominion and all nations would actuate Canada's delegation to the League of Nations assembly, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared tonight on his departure for Geneva.

HITLER MAKES PEACE ORATION

Four Hundred Planes to Take Part in Show of German Air Strength

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 11 (P).—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler with 400 war planes quartered nearby, tonight delivered a twenty-minute oration for peace.

"We pray Providence to spare our children what we suffered in the past," he said, "but let no one imagine our movement can be halted or shaken. We stand inflexible like a rock."

Der Fuehrer's only reference to Bolshevism and Jewry, assailed for two days by his highest subalterns, was:

"We only want peace to proceed with reconstructive work—but with our own methods and not the methods of Jewish Bolshevism."

TO DISPLAY AIR POWER
The 400 trim war airplanes nested in their hangars ready to roar at Monday what will be an unprecedented display of Germany's power in the air.

The projected manoeuvres were given added significance by the fact that the Reichsfuehrer and anti-Jewish orators of leaders high in the Nazi party councils.

The populace of Nurnberg, where 800,000 Nazis are assembled for their annual party convention, tonight turned their cheers for the officers of their air force—with everyone wondering what surprises would be brought out for them Monday.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 11 (P).—Three persons were in hospital tonight suffering injuries received in traffic accidents after a heavy rain had increased driving hazards.

Mrs. Grace Brown, with undetermined head and back injuries, was the most seriously injured. Her condition was described as "fair." She was struck by a car as she crossed the street at an intersection.

President Draper to Serve Another Year As Head of Congress

Re-elected by Unanimous Vote of Trades and Labor Delegates in Session at Montreal—Next Convention Will Be in Ottawa

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—With some thirty-five years of service as a trade union official behind him, P. M. Draper, of Ottawa, was today called to serve another year as president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Mr. Draper became president a year ago after long years as secretary-treasurer and the fifty-second annual convention of the congress re-elected him unanimously today along with all the rest of last year's executive.

OTHERS ELECTED

R. J. Tallon, secretary-treasurer, was re-elected unanimously, but the three vice-presidents, James Simpson, of Toronto; Percy Bengough, of Vancouver; and D. W. Morrison, of Glace Bay, N.S., had to stand a ballot test before securing their seats.

Ottawa was selected as the place for the 1937 convention.

Carl Berg, of Edmonton, won the title of Great Britain when he secured a majority of votes over James Sommerville, Montreal; Joe Hopkins, Toronto; Harry Davis, Prince Albert; and A. Bastien, of Montreal.

Provincial executives elected included: British Columbia—E. J. Morrison (chairman), F. Griffin, P. Pearson and G. Herrell, all of Vancouver.

AN IDEAL UNION

The Northwestern Ontario town of Port Frances was held before the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention today as an ideal trade union. Albert Locking, of Port Frances, told of the high state of labor organization in his home town and expressed surprise at the lack of organization in Montreal.

A plea for an active organization in the congress to organize all Canadian workers was made by J. B. Alzberg, of Toronto, who said an organization fund of $50,000 should be set up and live wire organizers sent through the country to increase the membership from some 100,000 to 500,000. The congress would not then have to go begging to Parliament and Government for action, but would be able to make demands and get action.

TO ASSURE JOBS

President Draper said he doubted if there were 500,000 workers employed in industry in Canada as he had been checking with the Bureau of Statistics. The first thing to be done before new organizations could

GOVERNOR OF BANK ARRIVES

Graham F. Towers Pleased With Vancouver Branch of Dominion Institution

Regarded as one of Canada's foremost businessmen, Graham F. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, came to Victoria yesterday.

He was accompanied and readily made friends at the Empress Hotel, where he is registered.

About business, Mr. Towers had nothing to say, because of his position. However, he said the Vancouver branch of the bank was operating "quite satisfactorily."

During his few days in the city the late, polite, youthful-looking banker will visit Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance; see the beauties of Lower Vancouver Island for the first time, and, weather permitting, will try out the local golf course.

While Mr. Towers was unable to answer many questions, he asks many about every city he visits. He says he wants to get all the information he can during his western tour, which he hopes will be an annual affair.

PRISONER GETS APPEAL RIGHTS

Vincent Macchione Will Be Able to Have Counsel At Tribunal

Vincent Macchione, whose home is near Fernie, convicted of murder at the Spring assizes held in Granbrook, and sentenced to death by Mr. Justice Robertson, will have the opportunity of having his case reviewed at the present sitting of the Court of Appeal.

In order to do so, the Crown will have to prepare the appeal book for the condemned man and will have to provide counsel for him.

This was decided upon by the Court of Appeal yesterday morning. The Crown, represented by A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., did not take any position either opposing or recommending the granting of the privilege asked for by J. R. Nicholson, for the accused, Mr. Macfarlane said the Crown was ready to acquiesce in anything that the court recommended.

Mr. Nicholson appeared for S. Herchman, Fernie, who had represented the condemned man at the trial.

The request was to grant legal assistance in the way of preparing an appeal book, which could be done quickly from the copy which had been given him. It was also asked that the Crown name counsel to present the case.

The prisoner had no funds, according to the word received by Mr. Nicholson, but there were prospects that later he would be able to obtain some money and might be able to repay the costs. Friends had raised about $300 to supplement the little money the prisoner had, but this had been absorbed in the trial.

Mr. Nicholson said that the case was one which depended upon circumstantial evidence and the representations made to him were that Mr. Justice Robertson, in his charge to the jury, had not pointed out sufficiently the law on the subject.

When Mr. Justice Martin asked if the case could be proceeded with in this way, Mr. Nicholson replied that there should be no difficulty in getting ready for about September 24 or 25. The execution had been delayed until November 6 to allow for the appeal being heard by the court.

Leave to appeal was allowed, with the recommendation that the application be carried into effect and that Mr. Nicholson should appear for the prisoner in the appeal.

STRESS NEED OF NEW DEAL FOR ISLAND

Stirring Speeches Rouse Enthusiasm of Many Citizens Of Nanaimo

FORM BRANCH OF NEW ASSOCIATION

NANAIMO, Sept. 11.—The nucleus of a branch of the Vancouver Island Provincial Association was formed here tonight following stirring speeches made by B. A. McKelvie, of Victoria, and H. D. Twigg, secretary-organizer, at a representative gathering of citizens in the Hotel Malaspina.

F. C. Grant was named chairman of the committee, which will have power to add to their number, and Dr. G. A. B. Hall, W. W. Mitchell, A. R. C. Hebdien and Miss Grace Mossell were named members of the committee.

COLD CALCULATION
Stressing in an interesting manner that it was a matter of cold calculation for the future of Vancouver Island to have a chance to possess its rightful inheritance to leave for generations to come, Mr. McKelvie started with the advent of the arrival of Captain Cook at Nootka in 1778, spoke of the other trials of the arrival of the Hudson's Bay Company, the whaling industry and the coal industry, which at one time had twelve pits working three shifts a day.

"Where are they now?" he asked. "There still remains the lumbering industry with the last remaining block of Douglas fir, estimated to last twenty-five years, and then what is to be done?"

NO JUST RETURN
From the industries of the past scores of millions of dollars have been placed in the Provincial Treasury without Vancouver Island receiving its just return, "Vancouver Island has the most equitable climate between Cobble Hill and Nanaimo on the North American continent, which should make it the home of every wealthy man in Canada, but under present conditions wealthy men are driven away by the taxes and succession duties that are levied in the province, he said.

Vancouver Island started to build roads in 1850, and the advancement is known to the motorist, who can travel only from Victoria to Campbell River or to Alberni. The most beautiful places in the world, the Forbidden Plateau with its snows of red, Long Beach, and Strathcona Park, which was to be a part of North America when it was reserved, are not yet accessible.

STILL WAITING
Port Renfrew and Seaway settlements of forty years ago are still waiting for the promised roads, and will continue to wait as long as the indifference to Vancouver Island continues. What would the island look like with its last share of the coal royalties alone, which it has contributed to the Government? With Vancouver Island getting a new deal it would enable us to spend a million a year on public works and roads; effect 90 per cent reduction on succession duties; have a basic rate of $10 for auto licences and leave a balance of $1,000,000.

He pointed out that the Island tax had but one decent building in twenty-five years, the King's Printer's Building in Victoria, and nearby, the Courthouse in the Capital City is no ancient has lost its origin, he said.

During the same period between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 were spent in Vancouver. Prince Rupert and Kamloops had a building costing $250,000 each. When the storm swept the province and damaged the Malaspina, one-way streets were erected with 15-cent lights, while $20,000 was allotted for repair to Stanley Park.

TERRESTRIAL WASTE
Fast parties have loaded the Government with today, with terrific waste because parties have been pulling against each other.

The speaker, in conclusion, urged that serious consideration be given to the present situation by people of every faith, so as to renew the Island consciousness that existed when Vancouver Island was a separate colony in the days of Sir James Douglas, who warned against annexation when the Island was prosperous.

The only way to arise out of the present difficulty of helping to maintain other parts of the province, and receive a just share of the Island's rights, was to organize, cut out inter-community jealousies and

For the fiscal year ending March, 1936, eleven months prior to the embargo, Canada sold to Russia goods valued at $3,738,401, and imports from that republic totaled $99,525.

At its close on March 31, 1931, trade between the two countries showed Canada as having exported $588,109 and imported $1,917,652. The effects of the restrictions on trade against furs was later somewhat modified. The Soviet replied by forbidding their purchasing agencies from making any purchases of Canadian goods.

TRADE RELATIONS WILL BE RESUMED

Renewal of trade relations was accomplished by an exchange of cables arranged by Mr. Euler before he left for the Soviet. They were between himself and S. K. S. acting people's commissar for foreign trade acting for the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

CABLES INTERCHANGED
Mr. Euler cabled: "On behalf of my Government I have the honour to inform you that the Government of Canada have decided to cancel the order in council of February 27, 1931, pursuant to which the importation into Canada of certain commodities originating in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was prohibited."

"I would appreciate an immediate acknowledgment by telegram," Mr. Sudjin replied. "I beg to confirm the receipt of your telegraphic communication to the effect that the Canadian Government have decided to cancel the order-in-council of February 27, 1931, pursuant to which the importations into Canada of certain commodities originating in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was prohibited."

"I hereby inform you that in consequence of the above I shall cancel my order of April 20, 1931, prohibiting all importing operations and trade representatives of the U.S.S.R. to make any purchases of goods of Canadian origin as well as the chartering of vessels sailing under the Canadian flag."

EXPECTED MARKET
In making the announcement Mr. King said it was expected Canada would find a considerable market in Soviet Russia for dairy cows, pedigree livestock, and cattle for restocking Russian farms, horses, seeds, metals and other commodities.

For the fiscal year ending March, 1936, eleven months prior to the embargo, Canada sold to Russia goods valued at $3,738,401, and imports from that republic totaled $99,525.

The embargo was clamped down in February, 1931, however, but normal trading had continued for eleven months of that fiscal year. At its close on March 31, 1931, trade between the two countries showed Canada as having exported $588,109 and imported $1,917,652. The effects of the restrictions on trade relations were seen in 1932, when exports to Russia dropped to $55,197 and imports to $18,001.

A PRIVATE DEAL
In the following year, when private enterprises in Canada made the deal which resulted in the exchange of Russian petroleum for Canadian aluminum, the trade figures were boosted. Canada in that year exported $1,776,946 and imported Russian goods valued at $539,419. This transaction aroused considerable controversy in Parliament and was not repeated in succeeding years. The excess of Canadian exports was due also, in large measure, to shipments of Canadian wheat.

In 1934 Canada's exports were $16,722 and her imports from Russia $104,760. The fiscal year ending March 31, 1935, saw an increase of imports to $265,039, and of exports to $21,712.

Last year's export trade with Russia reached almost the vanishing point, with a value of only $1,201, with imports valued at $279,441.

Fur Prices Lower Than in Spring

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Fall sales of the Canadian Fur Auction Sales, Limited, closed yesterday with prices a little lower than in the Spring. About 50 per cent of the 5,284 silver fox skins offered were sold.

Decline from June prices ran as high as 15 per cent on some of the better-grade pelts. Top price was $115, compared with a peak of $130 in the June sale.

BAR GOLD AT LONDON

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Bar gold in London unchanged at $34.79 an ounce in Canadian funds; 137s 6½-12d in British funds. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $35, with the United States dollar at par.

PRICE HIGHER; YIELD LOWER

Thomas S. Acheson, Q.B.E., C.P.R. Agricultural Agent, Reports on Wheat

While the prairie wheat yield this year, of 21,700,000 bushels, will be some 40,000,000 less than that of last year, a crop the higher price will equal the situation. Thomas S. Acheson, Q.B.E., C.P.R. general agricultural agent, for Western lines, said last night at the Empress Hotel.

With his wife and daughter, Mrs. Vance Echols, he is here from Winnipeg, to take in the Victoria Exhibition, at which the C.P.R. is showing many fine cattle. Mr. Acheson last night expressed his pleasure with receiving annually an invitation to the local fair.

Prices on high and sheep were good across the country, the visitor reported, but cattle prices were low. Horses were drawing fair prices. While the Government was working on irrigation, and reseeded schemes, cattle were being shipped to the East through co-operation of the railways.

The typical field of wheat in Canada is in two sections near Creston, B.C., Mr. Acheson explained. In all there are 12,000 acres of No. 1 Northern wheat.

The C.P.R. official was enthusiastic about the recent Kamloops Fair. The Indian and Women's Initiative exhibits were the finest he had ever seen, Mr. Acheson declared.

NOTED JURIST AMUSES WITH MANY STORIES

Lord-Thankerton Forgets
Address on "Love of Law"
And Relates Anecdotes

REFERS BRIEFLY TO BENEFITS OF CONTROL

Arising to address the Men's Canadian Club and some sixty Victoria lawyers on "Love of Law," at the Empress Hotel at noon yesterday, Lord-Thankerton, member of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, held that love of law included love of good society, and accordingly, he entertained his audience with an address of sparkling wit and humor, using the law theme only as a background for many anecdotes.

Periodically he would remark: "But I am wandering from my subject." Finally he swept his spectacles from his eyes, and, signing mild exasperation, exclaimed: "I've completely lost my address."

BRITISH JURISTS
Many of his anecdotes concerned noted figures in British law circles, including Lord Michael Morris, the Irish jurist; the late Sir Reeves Butler, Lord Riddell and his own famous father, Lord Watson, once referred to as the strongest man on the strongest bench in the world.

For a minute or two Lord-Thankerton appeared serious, and said: "What does the law do for any country? Does freedom mean license? No, means a fair and free opportunity to carry on one's trade or vocation and adequate protection for one's person and property. The more you are bound by your common law the greater will be your freedom. It is essential to the law. But law and order is essential to the prosperity of a country. It creates the stability and certainty which is essential for trade. During recent troublous financial times we have seen how uncertainty can hinder us."

NEED MORAL COURAGE
In all seriousness, Lord-Thankerton stated, "Successful lawyers acquire moral courage. Whatever the bench may say, or do, a lawyer should stick to his own idea of what's right."

On his trip across Canada from Halifax, where he addressed the recent convention of the Canadian Bar Association, the noted speaker said he was impressed by the wide spaces of the country. Not even in Canadian cities did he feel the same sense of being shut in as he experienced in the Old Country.

Opening his address, he extended greetings to the legal profession and Canadians generally from the bench of Scotland, and from what he termed "that other part of the island called England."

Lord-Thankerton was introduced by Herbert Anson, M.P., past president of the Canadian Bar Association, and Sir Charles Malcolm Barclay-Harvey, an old friend of the Scottish jurist, was also introduced.

D. Cress, president of the Victoria Bar Association, thanked Lord-Thankerton on behalf of the club and spoke in high terms of the visitor's accomplishments.

Among those at the head table were: Lord-Thankerton, Sir Charles Malcolm Barclay-Harvey, Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieut.-Governor; A. M. D. Fairbairn, Mr. Anson, Mr. Cress, Hon. Mr. Justice McPhillips, Hon. Mr. Justice McPhillips, Master of H. H. Hall, Judge Peter S. Lampman, W. H. M. Haldane, Frank Sehl and John Cochrane.

JUDGE MCINTOSH SHOWS LENIENCY

First Offender Is Given a Chance To Amend His Ways and Keep Out of Trouble

Reginald Wood, who was arrested by the Provincial Police at Sooke and charged with having in his possession stolen property, was sentenced yesterday by Judge J. C. McIntosh to a fine of $100 or six months in jail.

Judge McIntosh dealt leniently with the case of accused in view of the fact that his Honor said there was no previous conviction against him. The accused stated that he had never been in any trouble before and had followed the occupation of lawyer, working hard.

When the accused asked that the sentence be made to date from July 19, which was the date of arrest, his Honor hesitated and then consented to fix the imprisonment term, hoping that it would be an incentive to him to keep out of trouble.

Fifth M. Clarke, manager of the Pacific Shop, positively identified the rings and the stones. She was able to tell where they were obtained by her most of them coming from Sooke, B.C.

The jewelry had been taken from the store when it was entered on June 27. Detective Inspector W. G. Grant and Detective Angus Stewart, of the Vancouver police, testified to their part in tracing the crime to the accused with the assistance of the Provincial Police.

BRITISH NOVELIST DEAD
LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Emily Symonds, who wrote novels, plays and biographies under the pen-name of George Paston, died today.

Leaves Canada for Home

SIR JAMES WILLIAM BARRETT
Vice-Chancellor of Melbourne University and president of the British Medical Association, is shown above as he left Victoria for the Anti-Podes aboard the Ms. Aorangi. The noted educationist and doctor before sailing expressed criticism of regulations governing the new British Columbia Health Act. He considered the regulations as providing a "new tyranny from which there is no appeal." He said that if regulations were made they should be made only after consultation with credited representatives of the medical profession.

At the Theatres

DOMINION It is part of the native temperament to love singing, dancing and feminine beauty, which, at the outset, explains why the G.B. production, "It's Love Again," starring Jessie Matthews with Robert Young, is one of the most delightful screen experiences of the year. The picture is the current attraction at the Dominion Theatre.

ATLAS It is exceptionally rare for a father and son to appear in the same picture, but it happens in "Half Angel," Darryl F. Zanuck Twentieth Century production now at the Atlas Theatre, with Frances Dee, Brian Donlevy and Charles Buttersworth. Julius Tannen and his son, Charles, are both included in the cast.

PLAZA Marlene Dietrich's preference in color runs to black, white and shades of grey. Sophisticated effects in these combinations are seen in the smart frocks worn by this screen star in Paramount's new picture, "Desire," in which she appears with Gary Cooper. "Desire" is now at the Plaza Theatre.

COLUMBIA "My Other Me" and "Theatre" "First Kiss" are two songs especially composed for the "Manhattan Moon," now at the Columbia Theatre. Dorothy Page, radio star making her screen debut in this Universal picture, opposite Ricardo Cortez, sings both songs.

OAK BAY With final showings this afternoon and evening, the Oak Bay Theatre presents a magnificent picture of the opera in "Here's to Romance," featuring Nino Martini, star of the Metropolitan Opera and acclaimed by music critics as the greatest tenor since Caruso.

CAPITOL "San Francisco," the mighty MGM production, is being held over at the Capitol Theatre. Playing to capacity houses throughout the country, it is claimed to be one of the best shows of the year. Jeanette MacDonald, Clarke Gable and Spencer Tracy head the cast.

Fine Programme For This Evening

At 7:30 o'clock tonight on the Show Boat, L. E. Esmond, who is director of recreational and physical activities for the Provincial Department of Education, will present a programme of unusual and attractive qualities under the patronage and in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor, members of the British Columbia Cabinet, the School Board and the City Council.

This outstanding performance will include Swedish gymnastics, dancing, Hungarian gypsy scenes, the Tarantella, Greek processions, and a variety of other acts.

Owing to the cost of this unusual performance, it cannot be repeated, and those who desire to see this parade of the young manhood and young womanhood of the province in spectacular presentation, are advised to secure seats as early as possible.

Strange Story of Vancouver
Woman Under Investigation
by Police

Provincial and Vancouver city police were faced yesterday with one of the strangest cases on record, concerning the death of two persons, one John Anderson, sixty-nine years of age, and the other, Morris Alfie Mothe, three years of age, at Vancouver between 1933 and 1935. Meanwhile, Mrs. Alfie Mothe, mother of the dead child and of three living children, was under the care of physicians for observation, after declaring to the authorities that she believed herself responsible for both deaths.

Mrs. Mothe was recently discharged from St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, after a confinement and ill-health. For that reason, her statement, made to officers of the Provincial Police, at Ymir on September 6, was accepted with reservation.

Mrs. Mothe declared that she had put sleeping tablets and arsenic in wine made by John Anderson, when he shared a dwelling with Mr. and Mrs. Mothe at Vancouver in 1933, and that in September last year she had pushed her child into a basin of scalding water.

INQUESTS RECORDED
Inquest on the death of John Anderson, who died on May 9, 1933, was held by Coroner Brydson-Jack, and that on the death of Morris Alfie Mothe, who died on September 6, 1935, was held by natural causes, with a prior history of ptomaine poisoning from eating bologna sausage, the police assert.

Inquest on the death of little Morris Alfie Mothe, who died on September 6, 1935, also held in Vancouver, reported death from second and third degree burns, with the explanation that the child had pulled down a kettle of water and fatally scalded himself. Physicians attested both deaths.

On September 6 last, Mrs. Mothe walked into the Ymir station of the Provincial Police, related a story of domestic troubles, and then made the statement that is now being investigated. She was not at first credited, but insistence on the story has led to an inquiry by the Vancouver city police.

Mrs. Mothe is thirty-three years of age, and the mother of three children by her second husband, Morris Mothe, who is employed at Ymir.

VETERAN ARTIST GIVES RECITAL

H. B. Turpin Entertains
Delightfully With Songs and Reminiscences

A novel musical event took place last evening when a veteran singer, now in his seventy-ninth year, was heard in an artist-recital. The singer was Harry B. Turpin, once known to the concert platform of two continents, and still "Tale" as the teacher and accompanist of the late Cecil Fanning, another artist of international note. Four years ago Mr. Turpin, who had long since retired, and who now has a home in Victoria, took up the study of singing again. Last night's recital, for which Mrs. Kate McGregor loaned her attractive studio at the B.C. Academy of Music, on Broughton Street, gave an audience of about seven hundred listeners, an opportunity to hear a fine exposition of the principles he so clearly expounded in his talk on "The Preservation and Plucking of the Voice," given in the course of the programme. Turpin has nearly four score years. Mr. Turpin's voice is still remarkably firm and resonant and is used with the utmost artistry, especially in the matters of phrasing and expression.

WELL RECEIVED
He was enthusiastically applauded, particular favorite being Mendelssohn's "Wings of Song," with which he opened his recital, and which was subsequently repeated by special request. De Lara's "Garden of Sleep" given as an encore, Tosti's "Violet," another of his encores, and the great aria from Wagner's "Die Walkure," "Wotan's Farewell to Brunnhilde." This last was an especially exciting treat, and showed much distinction, both in vocal art and dignity of character.

Mrs. C. P. Wain, who acted as accompanist, shared generously in the appreciation with which this fine work was received, as well as elsewhere on the programme. Compliments were showered on both.

Other numbers in Mr. Turpin's unusually interesting and artistically arranged recital were Schubert's "An Meer," Schumann's "The Waltz Tree" and "The Bird We Love," and Corneille's "A Monologue." Lausens "It Was a Dream" was another of the encore numbers.

The talk on "The Plucking of the Voice" was supplemented by a fascinating autobiographical section, in the course of which Mr. Turpin told his audience practically all over Europe. An incident described in detail was the evening when Mr. Fanning and Mr. Turpin were engaged by the United States Ambassador and Mrs. John W. Davis to appear before the King and Queen at the American Embassy in London.

Victoria Businessmen Express Sentiments to Tourist Trade Office

Tribute to Island-wide activities of the Tourist Trade Development Association and the energetic work of its general secretary, T. H. Eslick, is contained in a number of letters received this week by the association from local business men.

Several stated Mr. Eslick had done more to encourage Island communities than anyone else for years, and his work should be recognized by every thinking citizen, that he should be encouraged to keep going, that Show Boat entertainments filled a long felt want and created extra business for shops open at night, and distribution of 50,000 tourist guides to visitors accomplished a great deal of good.

Surveys Conditions Leading to Present Tangle in Finances

James Forman Shows Real Estate Board How Victoria Got Into Difficulties Through Extravagance and Mistaken Policies

TAKING members back to 1911, when Victoria began to boom and grow, James Forman presented a concise step by step picture of events leading up to present financial conditions at a Real Estate Board meeting in Spencer's dining room yesterday afternoon. E. F. Burton presided.

"Victoria was a community of op- timists in 1911. Extravagance was reached in extravagant expenditures. The widening and extension of Douglas Street cost a huge sum, which naturally fell upon the shoulders of property owners," Mr. Forman related.

"Between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 was spent on local improvements, to be paid for by ten-year bonds. Over $3,000,000 worth of bonds were refunded, but some are still outstanding at 6 per cent. The Henry George single tax theory resulted in a loss of $5,000,000 to Victoria between 1911 and 1921," he continued.

"It was about that time David Leeming commenced to study the city's tangled finances, and it is to him and a few others we owe tribute for revoking the tax on land alone. Obligations began to accumulate, and the Provincial Government was appealed to for assistance. But the Government is the dominant partner, and the junior partner, represented by the city, had to accept crumbs from the table."

CITY TURNED DOWN
"The city asked for revenue from a three-cent tax per gallon on gasoline and for the amusement tax collected by the Government. Their pleas fell upon deaf ears. When the dominant partner felt the financial pinch, he rebuffed the junior partner of his rights. Now we do not even receive any revenue from operations of the Liquor Control Board."

"We should have efficiency rather than politics. An efficient, economical government handling affairs is a necessity. Pay as you go is an excellent policy. Take Duncan as an instance. The city has no debt and only about five reversed lots. With few exceptions, it is perhaps the most fortunate municipality in British Columbia. Recently the council was able to borrow money at the low rate of 4 1/2 per cent."

"We must have a showdown now. Victoria's $4,000,000 sinking fund contains many of the city's own unsaleable bonds. The only Government advance was 'Cut down expenses, raise the tax rate and all for legislation.'"

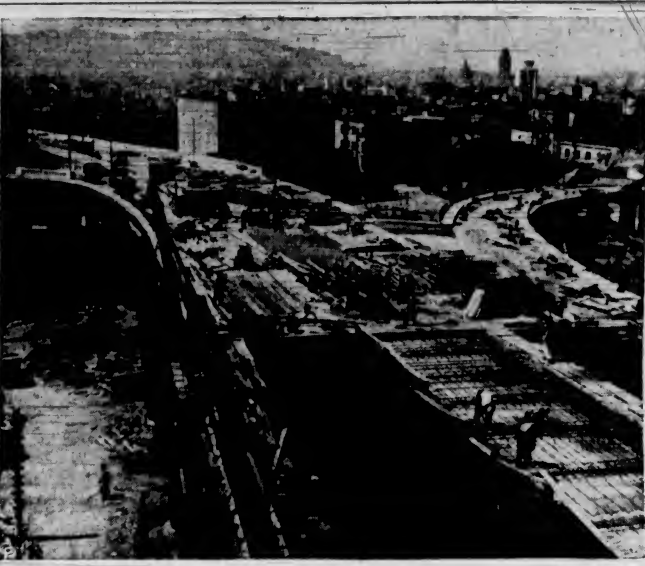

"Mr. Charles S. Henley was entreprising enough to believe refunding could be brought about. His plan was placed before the City Council, but I do not approve of the manner in which it was handled, through no fault of Mr. Henley. The city owes about $15,600,000, almost $5,000,000 of which is represented by bonds held in London."

BANKRUPTCY AHEAD
"If the city is forced into bankruptcy, which seems certain unless something is done, refunding will be forced upon bondholders and they will not be treated as well as they would by the city itself. It is believed refunding would cut the city tax rate to thirty-five mills. Canadian debt now means there is a mortgage of $3,500 on every home in Canada through Federal, Provincial and Municipal borrowings. SUPPORT DRIVE FOR NEW DEAL

Committee Formed at Duncan Following Public Meeting

DUNCAN, Sept. 11.—J. B. Creighton, president of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce, presided at a well-attended public meeting here last night called for the purpose of hearing speakers on the project of making Vancouver Island a separate province. Mr. Creighton explained that the local Chamber of Commerce had taken no stand on the matter but had sponsored the meeting to give the public an opportunity of hearing the case for separation.

B. A. McKelvie, who spoke first, gave a most convincing array of facts and figures which showed the results of his fifteen years of intensive study of the matter.

H. Despard Twigg, as secretary for the organization sponsoring the movement, explained the preliminary steps being taken. Local committees are being formed all over the Island with the object of inducing the people to present a united front in asking for a new deal for the Island.

After the meeting all those interested in aiding the scheme were asked to remain behind to form a committee for Duncan. The majority of those attending stayed, and the following committee, with power to add to their number, was chosen: W. B. Powell, A. N. Westwood, B. Schwengers, H. A. Fox, G. E. Bernard, E. H. Peterson, Fred Price, Herman Brown. Mr. Powell made a vote of thanks to the speakers for their illuminating addresses.

After twenty years in the newspaper business, during the last five of which he has interpreted the news for the public in his column that has appeared on both the Atlantic and the Pacific Coasts, Mr. Durling is convinced newspaper columns are continuing to soar in popularity. He says there is no limit to the money that can be made providing the columnist has the proper thing to sell.

REAL WORK
To turn out a daily column is real work, Mr. Durling explains. It takes him eight or nine hours to fill his column. It means reading all other columns to prevent repetition, perusing the news in local, state and cross-country papers, as well as overseas journals; scanning magazines, and the collection of tit-bits from points in the city.

"The secret to writing a successful column, he says, is to write as you would talk. While believing in unobtrusive guides for news writers, Mr. Durling says he is strongly in favor of the men banding together for collective bargaining with newspaper proprietors in order to elevate the lot of news gatherers."

MORE HALIBUT TAKEN IN 1936

Figures Show Comparison As Between Past Two Fishing Seasons

The records of the International Fisheries Commission show that for the period from March 16 to August 31, 1936, the following amounts of halibut have been landed in the various ports on the Pacific Coast.

United States fleet, Area 2, 12,628,654 pounds; Area 3, 14,825,563 pounds; Canadian fleet, Area 2, 8,583,702 pounds; Area 3, 378,148 pounds. Totals, Area 2, 22,214,356 pounds; Area 3, 15,203,711 pounds.

These figures have been corrected to date, but are subject to further corrections.

For the period from March 1 to August 31, 1935, the following landings were recorded:

It will be remembered that, although the halibut fishing season was officially opened on March 1, 1935, a period of voluntary closure from March 1 to 31 was enforced by the halibut fleet.

For the month of August, 1936, the following amounts of halibut were landed:

BIG FLAGPOLE PUT IN PLACE

Dedication Ceremony at Ladysmith Has Been Set For Sept. 26

LADYSMITH, Sept. 11.—The giant 112-foot flagpole given to the city of Ladysmith by the Comox Logging Company was erected this afternoon by the pole crew of the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities. Saturday, September 26, is set as the date of the dedication ceremony. It was intimated at the regular meeting of the city council, Hugh Savage, M.P.P., who presented the flag for the tall stick, will perform the dedication. Mayor W. W. Walker will speak on the significance of the occasion.

The vacant lots between First Avenue and Esplanade, on Roberts Street, reserved by the council for future civic development, have been prepared as a site for the flagpole, and it is planned to decorate the area with lawn, flower beds and shrubbery later.

FORESHORE DEVELOPMENT

The city has prepared an agreement with the Comox Company dealing with city lands leased by the company for foreshore development. The company has utilized a small section not included in the original suggestions, and when the matter is adjusted, the city may proceed with a road to meet prospective needs of foreshore industrial sites to the area of 250,000 square feet. This road would complete approach to these lands, which are already served by tide-water and adjacent rail facilities.

Ladysmith will have no delegates at the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Vernon, September 22 and 24 of this year, nor at the sessions of the good roads group, which is an affiliated body.

Alderman Steele, of the board of works, reported he had attended a demonstration of low-cost dust-preventing road surfacing at Cultus Lake. The material used was a liquid residue from hemlock pulp, and while he was impressed by the showing on dirt roads surfaced by the product, he was not prepared to make an unqualified recommendation until he saw the process under test on macadamized or gravelled roads, such as existed in the Ladysmith vicinity. Meanwhile, a small experiment, conducted by the Comox Company with the same material on Esplanade, was being observed.

Building permits were issued for two new buildings, valued at $950 and $1,200, respectively.

By a standing vote, the council endorsed their resolution expressing deepest regret and sympathy to ex-Mayor Mason and family at the loss sustained in the recent passing of Mrs. Mason.

HELP BALL TEAM
P. McInnis, of the local Athletic Club, appeared before the council to solicit help towards sending the junior softball team, winners of the Island championship, to Vancouver on Saturday to play a final game for the Provincial championship. The council decided to give $20 towards the expenses of the journey.

NOT ALLOWED TO RESIGN JOB
Application of Duncan Teacher Refused by Board—Inspector Criticized

DUNCAN, Sept. 11.—Is it ethical for a school inspector to make use of knowledge gained in his official capacity to locate teachers of outstanding ability, and to encourage them to leave the board by whom they are employed, to enter a school controlled by the inspector as an official trustee?

The Duncan Consolidated School Board decided Wednesday night that it was not and a written application from Miss Gwendoline Owens, for the past thirteen years a receiving class teacher in the Duncan schools, to be permitted to leave the board's employ at the end of the current month to accept a position in the Fairbridge Farm School at Cowichan, was rejected.

MEETS BARRAGE
The school inspector, who is official trustee for Fairbridge School, and who had offered Miss Owens the position, was present at the meeting and had to withstand a barrage of criticism from the trustees. The trustees claimed that the School Act provided that a resignation should be in their hands not later than July 31, and that the duty of the trustees was toward the children in their own school district; also that it was the duty of the inspector to aid the trustees in procuring and keeping good teachers in their employ.

Due to an unexpectedly large registration in the junior high school, it was found that an additional teacher will be required immediately, and the board will take steps to cope with the situation. Between fifty and sixty additional students are applying for permission to take the commercial course.

An application from the North Cowichan Council for permission to remove the old Maple Bay School building, now in a dilapidated condition, was granted.

Autumn Modes Are Presented in First Display of Season

Many Spectators Attend Revue at Hudson's Bay Company Sponsored by St. Ann's Academy Alumnae—Tunic Frocks Attractive

"BAA, baa, black sheep, have you any wool?" so goes the old nursery rhyme, and unless the answer is in the affirmative this season, milady will be out of style. For the woolen materials are particularly lovely and are made in such variety of texture, color and weight. At least, this is the impression one gathers after seeing the new fashions which are being featured by the Hudson's Bay Company, and shown at the style revue and tea held yesterday in the Victorian dining-room of the store under the auspices of St. Ann's Academy Alumnae.

There was a large attendance and the tea tables looked attractive with their decorations of dahlias, zinnias and gladioli. During the revue the orchestra played a programme of soft music, which made a pleasing and harmonious background as the mannequins paraded about the room.

OF SPECIAL MENTION
Attention this season is directed to shoulders, which must be square; sleeves which have many variations; materials, which are soft in texture and retained in tone; hats, whose crowns do quaint turns and whose brims assume the most startling angles, and "Vogue Fashions Decree Black," as the guests were reminded by the caption on their programmes.

In the collection of black frocks, the tunic dress predominated, and indeed, this trend of fashion showed itself in the smart afternoon gowns and in the more formal dinner and evening gowns. Buttons, either on the bodice or on the skirt, were used as trimming on many of the tunic frocks and they are, exceedingly smart, arranged from neckline to hem. Miss Ellen Regan appeared in a youthful frock for the co-ed, with which she wore a sleek black felt hat. Miss M. Merrick showed an attractive tunic frock trimmed with flat braid; Mrs. G. Edgelow modeled a "Peggy Page" style tunic dress of satin-back crepe, trimmed with Persian lamb, and Miss Peggy Gelling showed a sophisticated black tunic dress with all-over silk braid trimming, the black of the dress being relieved with silver lame at the neckline.

A novelty satin frock for the sub-deb was worn by Miss T. Ackerman and with this she wore a quaint black felt poke bonnet hat by Deb-way. There was a jaunty air about the patent leather shoes which trimmed the ripple satin-back crepe tunic model worn by Miss Helen Eve, and buttons adorned the front of Miss Ethel Bales' model in this group. A satin stripe silk crepe dress made with a bias swing tunic was shown by Mrs. G. Roberts, and metallic gold thread made Mrs. S. Rattenbury's tunic model "just a little different."

SPORTS WEAR
For sports wear there were beautifully cut and designed two and three-piece suits by Lanes and Janzen, among the best-known houses, and brown and burnt red were unusually smart. With the sport styles were worn many variations of the popular tan or buff, a quilt, a turn of the brim or even just the angle at which it was worn, transforming these simple styles into the latest up-to-the-minute millinery fashions.

In the sports coat group, fur collar was a feature.

gown, the bodice studded with gold; Miss Ackerman wore a lovely silver and green lame gown with a very full skirt, an emerald-green imported taffeta, the skirt caught up with a bow in front and the bodice trimmed with a pink rose at the square neckline. For the older woman was shown a smart black chiton gown, the fullness of the bodice being gathered with a shirring of the shoulders. One of the loveliest of the evening gowns was a white frock of metallic embossed crepe worn by Miss Peggy Gelling, a beaded girdle giving a touch of color.

CHILDREN'S STYLES
Several charming styles for children were shown by Lorraine and Joyce Stocker and June Gibson. They appeared in knitted dresses in shades of crimson and rust. A maroon fleck tweed frock with white silk linen collar and cuffs was shown as ideal for school wear and a beaded velvet coat, trimmed with a "Womball" fur collar, a Tyrolean blue coat and hat set and a skipper blue velvet dress with zippered leggings.

During the afternoon, June Gibson and Lorraine Stocker presented corsage bouquets to Lady McBride and Mrs. G. P. Asquith, who were the patronesses of the fashion tea. Mrs. M. O'Leary was general convenor and others on the committee were Mrs. A. C. Fitching, Miss Rose McKenna, Mrs. Fitzsimmons and Miss Flora Burns.

The mannequins were Miss E. Regan, Miss M. Merrick, Miss G. Edgelow, Miss P. Penneok, Miss P. Gelling, Miss T. Ackerman, Miss H. Eve, Miss E. Bales, Mrs. G. Roberts, Mrs. S. Rattenbury, Mrs. H. Taitz, Lorraine and Joyce Stocker and June Gibson.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

This being health month in the district, a fifteen minutes discussion was held on health problems. Five dollars was voted to the Cowichan Health Centre annual drive. Plans were made for the Women's Institute stand at the Cowichan Fall Fair. Members listened with interest to an excellent report of the provincial conference given by Miss John Haslam. Special mention was made of the visit of Lady Tordensmure and Mrs. Alfred Watt. Mrs. E. Bales, who is an institute member, each one addressing the gathering at the Vancouver conference. Tea was served at the close by Mrs. W. F. Wilkin and Mrs. R. L. Taylor.

Constitution Is Discussed By Liberals

At the first of its resumed meetings yesterday, the Liberal Women's Forum devoted the afternoon principally to a discussion of the revision of the constitution.

Subject to the approval of the next general meeting, the old constitution is to be retained, with the exception of the clauses fixing the date of the annual meeting. Under the proposed amendment the date would be the second Friday in November, nominations to take place the second Friday in October.

Mrs. J. S. Atkins, the president, was in the chair. Early in the proceedings a standing tribute was paid to the late Mr. W. H. Kilman, past president of the Victoria Liberal Association.

After discussing the question of membership dues of the Local Council of Women in the Provincial Council, the Forum, which is one of the affiliated societies of the Local Council, favored the principle of uniform fees.

THANKS EXPRESSED

A vote of appreciation was passed to Mrs. H. P. McGivern for a delightful afternoon given the members of the Forum at her home, and the Forum endorsed the decision of the executive to send a letter of thanks to Mrs. Gordon M. Sloan for her invitation a few weeks ago to attend the tea which she gave in connection with the visit here of a delegation of Vancouver Liberal women. A letter of congratulation was ordered to be sent Mrs. Nellie McClung on her appointment to the national royal commission, the Forum expressing special pleasure in the fact that a woman had been appointed to the commission.

The proceedings concluded yesterday with the serving of tea, the conveners being Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran and Miss Clearhugh, and the ladies presiding at the tea table being Mrs. Norman Whitaker and Mrs. O'Halloran.

Reports Read at Missionary Rally

Most stimulating and encouraging were the reports presented at the United Church Women's Missionary Rally on Thursday afternoon in First United Church. Mrs. W. J. Graham, the Presbyterian president, was in the chair and the devotionals were conducted by Mrs. W. G. Wilson, who read the "Sermon on the Mount" and led in prayer, special mention being made of the Dominion president, Mrs. G. E. Forbes, who is visiting the Orient.

Two beautiful solos, "Love Never Fails" and "Traveller's Prayer," sung by Miss Grace Platt, Vancouver, accompanied at the piano by Miss N. Sherwood, were much appreciated. In introducing the special speaker, Mrs. E. Day Washington, British Columbia branch president, Mrs. Graham extended a hearty welcome, with best wishes and assurance of loyal support.

Mrs. Washington reported most encouraging progress in the various departments and said "The Future of the Dominion" was the theme of the Dominion board meetings held in Toronto last June. Under "The Future" the work was reviewed.

Mrs. C. E. Sonley, British Columbia treasurer, was also introduced by the president, her services in Victoria for many years in the W.M.S. being much appreciated. Warmest thankings were expressed for funds on hand before the expenditures of the year commenced. She emphasized three needs—prayer, faith and service. Miss G. Baker gracefully thanked Mrs. Washington for the resume of the Dominion board's efforts. Mrs. Sonley, for her excellent report, the pianist, accompanist and the social convenor, Mrs. K. R. Stewart, and committee. The meeting closed with the benediction. Tea was served in the church hall, with Mrs. Graham and Mrs. George Guy presiding at the table.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Canon Chapter
"Canon" Chapter met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Macrae, Fort Street, when $9.00 was voted towards the purchase of a new altar cloth. Mrs. Grace Miles and Mrs. D. W. Burnett will act as conveners. Mrs. C. E. J. Millar was proposed as a new member. Mrs. R. Dunne and Mrs. Burnett were appointed to visit sick members this month.

Duncan
Friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robinson will be interested to hear of Mr. Robinson's transfer to the Granville Street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, where he will be attached to the "Business" branch. Mr. Robinson, who has been in the accountancy department of the bank for the past seven years, will be much missed in musical and church circles, as his delightful tenor voice has given much pleasure on so many occasions.

Miss Ina Clark and Miss Winnie Harlan, who have entered St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, as nurses in training, were guests of honor at several functions before their departure from Duncan on Wednesday. Hostesses were Mrs. T. C. Robson, Mrs. H. Clark and Mrs. E. R. Johnson. The latter entertained the elder members of the United Church girls' choir, of which Miss Clark was a member, and Miss Harlan, a former member.

COMMON MENTAL AILMENTS

Now that the mind is being studied in the same manner as the heart, stomach or other organ, there are a number of expressions or names being used in newspapers and magazines that we should all try to learn or understand. Thus the study of the mind—how it works in health and disease—is known as psychiatry, or when a patient consults a psychiatrist or attends a psychiatric clinic we understand what is meant.

Some of the names of the ailments of the mind are used every day in conversation. Thus an "illusion" is when the patient sees one object and thinks it is another; the brain records it incorrectly. An "hallucination" is when the patient sees or hears something which does not exist. Many of the "voices" that are heard are hallucinations. There may be hallucinations of the other senses also—taste, touch, and smell. A "delusion" is simply a false belief; that is, believing something that every educated intelligent individual knows is not true. Common sense and reason show that this belief is impossible or improbable and yet the individual with the delusion still believes it. The cause of the delusion is believed to be due to an effort on the part of the patient to protect himself in some way.

There are different kinds of delusions. Expensive delusions—delusions of grandeur—where the patient thinks he is the wealthiest or strongest man in the world, Napoleon or other famous personage. He may treat other people with disdain or with condescension. "Depressive delusions" is when the patient has the belief that the unpardonable sin has been committed and that his soul is lost. There are delusions of poverty, impending death, persecution and others.

An "obsession" is where the patient believes he has to do certain things—compelled to do them—such as counting every pebble in a fence, washing the hands continuously. The patient usually an intelligent individual—believes that his fears or compulsive acts are foolish, but is powerless to control his emotions or actions.

A "neurosis" is where the individual thinks he has an ailment when there is no actual cause for his thinking he has an ailment. It is called a "psychoneurosis."

To Judge Beauty When Not Posing

BRAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 11.—
The annual fair here is to have a beauty contest, but the contestants will not know that they are under the critical eyes of a judge. Instead of mingling before a crowd in bathing suits, the contestants, consisting of all the girls and women on the grounds, will just walk about and act naturally, for there will be no entry fee. The identity of the judges will not be known.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If September 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. until 12:15 p.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m., and from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m.

An unexpected guest may upset
many a host's equanimity this day, so if you are contemplating just
"drooping in" on some friend, it might be tactful to telephone and find out if your visit will interfere with any prearranged plans. Existing conditions makes it advisable to be cautious in movements or actions, where the maintenance of equilibrium plays an important part, for loss of balance is liable to be the origin of many accidents.

Be careful in places requiring your stepping up and down again—such as getting on and off ladders, weighing machines, as well as the steps of conveyances. Should you feel called upon to express your admiration, while engaged in some social activity, do not do so in too gushing a manner or your sincere is apt to be questioned. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whom Cupid has inspired with ambitious plans for a matrimonial future, must refrain from asking for some favor which they themselves would be reluctant to do.

If a woman had September 12 is your birthday, you have a great depth of feeling. You may be too ready to allow small things to depress your spirits. If you have the habit of taking things too granted, overcome it before it causes trouble. Guard against outbursts of temper, for there are likely to cause harmful reactions, particularly where your social popularity is concerned. You have all the qualifications needed to be a winner in the game of life, so never be a quitter if things temporarily seem to go wrong. You are likely to find yourself a protégé of "Lady Luck" with an abundance of money at your command. As an interior decorator, real estate or insurance broker—artist, writer, teacher or professional career is apt to be a series of great successes.

If a man had September 12 is your natal day, you should have a forceful personality. Be careful it does not earn you a reputation of being domineering. There are indications of your becoming a big money maker. The theatrical, medical or legal professions, as well as financial or mercantile activities, seem to have the most to offer men born on this date.

TOO TERRIBLE!

"You never told me, dear, what was your real reason for becoming theatrical."
"Well, it was like this. The day time I came home, your mother was here, and I saw two of her."

NEW RECTOR AT ST. PAUL'S HERE

Rev. A. Bischofberger, Duncan, Will Commence Work at Esquimalt Church

REV. ARTHUR BISCHOFBERGER

Rev. Arthur Bischofberger, who begins his work tomorrow at St. Paul's Naval and Military Church, Esquimalt, comes here with almost twenty-five years' experience in the ministry, which includes varied association with men of His Majesty's forces.

After two years at Cumberland, B.C., he was appointed in 1918 chaplain of the forces and served overseas until 1919, in France and Germany with the 2nd Artillery Brigade and 1st Division Heavy Trench Mortar-Batteries. Since 1919 the new Esquimalt incumbent has been vicar of Duncan and Soan.

Mr. Bischofberger has shown great interest in ex-servicemen. He is past president of the G.W.V.A., Cowichan Branch, and Canadian Legion president of the past two years. He has been District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of Cowichan District for the past ten years and holds the Scout Medal for a service of more than twenty years.

CAREER AS CHAPLAIN

His earliest contact with His Majesty's services was as a boy clerk in the Admiralty. Entering King's College, University of London, he obtained the degree of Associate of King's College. Following ordination at Southwark Cathedral in 1912 and two years of work as chaplain of Dulwich College Mission and chaplain of the Southwark Battalion, National Reserve, he became vicar of St. Matthias' Church, London, in 1914.

His family consists of his wife and two children, Doris, who is in training at St. Joseph's Hospital, and Harold, in high school.

TO HOLD ANNUAL HARVEST SERVICE

Special Harvest Festival services, commencing with a meeting tonight, will be held over the week-end at the Salvation Army Citadel, South Street. A visitor from Vancouver headquarters, Major Shaw, subscribers' secretary for British Columbia, will speak at the meetings.

The Citadel will be decorated with the fruits of field, orchard and garden, and the produce donated will be sold by auction in the Citadel at 8 o'clock on Monday night. The proceeds will be used for the fund raised annually through the harvest festival effort for local work, and to assist other corps not so favorably circumstanced.

The weekly meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association will be held on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Foresters' Hall, and will be addressed by N. Y. Cross, his subject being "Repentance for the Kingdom of Heaven is at Hand."

Appreciating the solemnity of the time of the approaching crisis in European affairs, Mr. Cross will stress the need of both national and individual turning from man's way to God's way in every phase of activity.

Salvation Army Takes Charge of 'Show Boat' Night

THE last of the Sunday evening services at the Show Boat will be held tomorrow at 8 o'clock. It will be conducted by the local corps of the Salvation Army, under the leadership of Adjutant L. Ede. 'Wonders of Vancouver Island' Is Sunday Evening Topic of Rev. E. Church

After spending a month exploring the highways and seaways around Vancouver Island, Rev. Edward F. Church, B.A., the pastor of Metropolitan, will return to his own pulpit tomorrow.

His theme for the morning service is "The Things of the Spirit." At the evening worship he will tell something of the wonders he has seen on the West Coast and among the mountains and lakes of Vancouver Island. "The Wonders of Vancouver Island" is the sermon title.

Frank Tupman has arranged the music for the day, which will include the solo "Hear Us, O Father" (Maudsley), by Mrs. E. Ridgway, at the morning service, and at night Miss Dayne Evans will sing "Now the Day Is Over" (Wooler).

Next Sunday the beautiful newly-decorated auditorium of the church will be opened for public worship.

"Substance" To Be Lesson For the Day

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews xi, 1).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then Job answered the Lord, and said, I know that Thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from Thee" (Job xli, 1, 2).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All that really exists is the divine Mind, and its idea, and in this Mind the entire being is found harmonious and eternal."

REV. F. W. WEAVER TO SAY FAREWELL

Tomorrow the farewell services of Rev. F. W. Weaver will be held at St. Alban's Church. Racing Meet Will Get Under Way This Afternoon at Willows Track

Attractive Card of Races Is Scheduled At Local Enclosure

Good Fields Assured for Final Meeting on British Columbia Tracks—First Post Time 1:45 P.M.—Many Fine Thoroughbreds Are Stabled Here—Steeplechase Is Carded

Emil Smorl

With good fields assured for every event, British Columbia's final race meeting of the 1936 season will get under way this afternoon at the Willows Eight races are listed on the attractive programme, with the first post time set for 1:45 o'clock. Four sprints, three races over the mile distance and the steeplechase round out the card prepared for the grand opening by racing officials. The "timber tappers" are being introduced to local fans for the first time during a regular meet, and are expected to prove popular with the followers of the "sport of kings."

PRIZE FOR LEADER

Officials in charge of the meeting yesterday announced that the leading rider will be presented with a wrist watch donated by the Busy Bee Cafe and Oyster House, Broad and Johnson Streets. Emil Smorl, veteran Swiss rider, who copied the honor on the Mainland, will be one of the favorites to lift the award. However, with many fine boys riding at the Willows, Sport will have plenty of stiff opposition during the fourteen-day season.

As in past seasons, the public address system will be used. Jack Short, Western Canada's ace turf announcer, will be at the microphone and will describe the merits of the races for the benefit of the large army of punters that will be in attendance.

Some of the finest thoroughbreds Western Canada are stabled here for the meet, and before the curtain is rung down on British Columbia's final racing programme on Monday, September 28, the fans should witness many thrilling finishes at the popular track at the Willows.

JACK STARKY AND BARNABE REACH FINAL

To Meet Today for Totem Pole Trophy at Jasper Park Course

JASPER PARK LODGE Alta., Sept. 11.—Jack Starky, the long reigning Mayfair Golf Club player from Edmonton, will have a chance here tomorrow to have the honor of having his name carved on the Totem Pole trophy for the second time. To do this, however, he will have to brush aside little Bert Barnabe, Riverside Golf Club star, Ottawa, and to do this appears to be a man sized job. The final Saturday will be over the thirty-six-hole route. In the semi-final matches today, Starky defeated Lionel Morrison, Calgary, 3 and 2, and Barnabe defeated Bill Schaff, Vancouver, 4 and 3.

In the women's championship played this morning, Mrs. Emma May of Edmonton, captured the final honors by defeating Mrs. S. P. Powell, Vancouver, 4 and 2, in a well played match. Mrs. E. C. LARGE FIELD WILL TEE OFF IN OPEN GOLF

Strong Entry Will Seek Canadian Women's Championship at Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 11 (P.)—Vanguard of the firing forces in the Canadian Women's Open golf championship moved on Montreal today in preparation for play in the Dominion's premier feminine golf event of the year. The golf courses of Montreal and district were crowded with the practicing feminine stars.

Not a ball will be shot in championship play over Royal Montreal until Monday, but the stars from Vancouver to Newfoundland, and some from the United States, came early for a final touch-up of their drivers, irons and putters. It is practice time for a tournament that promises the keenest competition in years.

The defending champion, Miss Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, won't be such a big favorite this year. It's that kind of play—where a host has a chance and an outstanding United States golfer is the people's choice.

Young Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, third ranking woman player in the United States, has been chosen as the invader to spoil Miss Mackenzie's bid for her sixth open crown and to take the title back to the United States, where it hasn't been since 1931. On form she is the one to beat.

RECORD PRICE IS PAID FOR HORSE

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 11 (P.)—A record price was paid for a yearling horse at a public auction in England tonight when Dorothy Paget bid 15,000 guineas (about $75,000) to win a spirited bidding duel with Miss Goldie Glover.

Miss Paget, owner of the famous jumper, Golden Miller, bought the colt by Fairway, out of Golden Hair, from Viscount Furness when Mrs. Glover dropped out after a bid of 14,500 guineas.

Leading Golfers in Canadian Tourney

LAWSON LITTLE

LAWSON LITTLE—A professional golfer, who described the amateur drama he ruled so long earlier this year, who is leading at the half-way mark in the Canadian open championship at Toronto with two sensational putty-putty rounds of 67 and 66 for a 133 total. He is out in front of the large field by four strokes and is a big favorite to win the crown today when the final thirty-six holes are completed. His prodigious driving and brilliant work on the greens have featured his play in the East. Little played in Victoria's $9,000 open tournament in July but his showing there was not what the gallery expected.

CARDS ANOTHER PAR-BREAKING ROUND TO SET TERRIFIC PACE

Former Monarch of Amateurs Shoots Sensational 66, Which Gives Him 133 Score at Half-Way Distance—Runyan Breaks Course Mark With 65 to Take Over Second Position

TORONTO, Sept. 11 (P.)—A great struggle loomed tonight over St. Andrew's course for the Canadian open golf championship, with dapper Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N.Y., in the thick of the fight with burly Lawson Little, abdicated monarch of the amateurs.

Scarcely the naked eye can discern, Runyan and Little are billed to duel alone over thirty-six holes tomorrow, with only a few others placed so they can take advantage of even minor lapses by the former professional champion of the United States and the giant Little.

These two scorched St. Andrew's today, from end-to-end—Little reaching the halfway mark with 67-66-133, one of the lowest scores ever recorded in the first half of the tournament. The 66, four under par, was a course record.

But less than two hours later Runyan came through with a dramatic 65 to take over second place with a 137. The Beau Brummel from White Plains, one of golf's greatest iron players, conquered the par 70 layout with his light artillery.

Even par, but still seven strokes behind the pace-maker, Jack Little of Ottawa, lone Canadian threat remaining, and Tony Mayo, of Greenwich, Conn., United States open champion, were tied for third position.

Pudgy Al Watrous, of Burnhamthorpe, Ont., a fourteen-year-old, was fifth with 71-70-141, and those beyond that figure appeared to have small chance of ousting the twenty-six-year-old Little.

Candidates with thirty-six-hole scores of 151 or better qualified for tomorrow's final rounds, leaving sixty-five in the tournament.

Driving such distances that the longest holes on the 6,615-yard course were easy to reach with a second iron. Little didn't need good fortune with his putter to card six birdies. If the first one had dropped he would have had a 62 or 63.

His outgoing nine was near-perfect. On the 435-yard fourth, Lawson banged an iron seven feet from the pin and got down in three for his first birdie. He left himself a six-foot putt on the 180-yard seventh and sank it. He was on with a drive and an iron at the long eighth, getting four and his third birdie.

FOUR UNDER PAR

As a gallery of 1,000 assembled around him, the former British and United States amateur champion went four under par at the tenth, banking down a putt for birdie. Then he slipped for the first time. At the 230-yard par-three eleventh, he had to chip from a trap and missed a short putt.

Real trouble developed on the twelfth, a 505-yard 62-tee. Little drove 330 yards and smashed a brassie shot past the green into sand. He took two to get out of the bunker and needed two putts for a six.

The comeback started at the seventeenth, where Little sank a ten-foot putt. On the long par-five eighteenth he was forty feet from the pin with his second after driving 125 yards. His first putt was inches past and he scored a birdie four.

Tied at 142 were Ralph Guldahl of Hershey, Pa.; Harry Cooper, of Glen Elder, Pa.; Leo Dangel, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dick Metz, of Lake Forest, Ill.; and Ray Manerum, of Dayton, Ohio.

In the 143 group were Morris Duff, of Royal Oak Mich.; Gordon Brydson, of Toronto; Ed Dudley, of Philadelphia; Jimmy Thomson; Len Dodson, of Springfield, Mo.; and Byron Nelson, of Riverwood, N.J.

Campbell Chosen Over Goodman by British Golfers
GARDEN CITY, L.I., Sept. 11 (P.)—The British Walker Cup players pick Albert "Scotty" Campbell over Johnny Goodman as the man to beat in the United States amateur golf championship starting Monday.

The extremes of Campbell's game are unusually sound and if you can drive and putt here, you'll be hard to beat.

This from Jack McLean, the whisky salesman from Glasgow, who, with Hector Thomson, the British amateur champion, is considered the best chance among the players from the other side.

The Britons refuse to get into any detailed discussion of the merits and demerits of the outstanding American amateurs, but they have been sounding praises of Campbell, a double winner of the Canadian title.

FRED PERRY AND BUDGE REACH U.S. TENNIS FINAL

English Champion Eliminates Grant In Four Sessions

Defeats Diminutive American Player by Scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-2—Budge Puts Out Parker in Straight Sets—Helen Jacobs Beats Kay Stammers—Alice Marble in Final FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—Bryan (Bills) Grant, Jr., the pin-sized tennis rebel, almost caught an indifferent Fred Perry off guard today, but finally lost to the Englishman, who gained the final of the United States singles tennis championship against California's Don Budge. Helen Jacobs fought her way to her fifth straight final and will defend her crown against Alice Marble tomorrow.

The scrappy Southerner went down to a 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2 defeat. Perry rolled through the first three sets and finally went to work in the fourth, although at no time was he really going under a full head of steam.

Budge, showing at his best form since he returned from England last month, disposed of Frank Parker, of Spring Lake, N.J., in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. The Californian, after the first set, took things easy to be in tip-top shape for tomorrow's final.

DEFEATS KAY STAMMERS
Miss Jacobs had the dislocated thumb of her right hand tightly bandaged, but it didn't seem to give her any trouble. She turned in one of her finest performances in vanquishing the formidable British southpaw, Kay Stammers, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. It seems unlikely Miss Jacobs will fall in her ambition to become the first player to win the championship five straight times.

The title-holder's adversary, Miss Marble, of San Francisco, gained the championship round in a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Helen Pedersen, of Stamford, Conn. Miss Marble, making a comeback after a two-year retirement, flashed moments of brilliance in their second set, but there was nothing sustaining about her form against her steady driving opponent.

Surprise Pitcher of Giants

"Gabby" Gabler is, without doubt, one of the surprise pitchers of the major leagues this season. He started the season with the New York Giants as a relief pitcher, but showed such remarkable form, that he has been used as a regular pitcher with equal success.

Giants' Southpaw Turns Back Cubs To Increase Lead

Carl Hubbell Pitches Brilliant Ball in Whipping Chicago by 5-1 Score—Registers Twenty-Third Victory of Year—Cardinals Split Even—Gehrig Hits Out Forty-Sixth Homer

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP).—Carl Hubbell's long left arm manufactured another four-hit ball-game today and the Giants hurled back the Chicago Cubs, 5-1, in the opener of a two-game series before 15,000 fans.

The victory, which increased the Giants' lead over the Cardinals to four full games and over the Cubs to six full games, was the southpaw's twenty-third of the season, and his thirteenth in a row. This is the best record turned in by a Giant twirler since Burleigh Grimes, the old spitball star, hung up thirteen in a row back in 1927.

Prior to today the Giants had dropped five out of six to the Bees and Reds since coming home, and Manager Bill Terry made drastic changes in his batting order in an effort to change the club's luck.

Hubbell was wild at the start, but after the second he settled down and permitted only twenty-one men to face him in the last seven innings.

With the score knotted at one all, the Giants put the game on ice with a three-run rally in the sixth.

CHICAGO 010 000 000—1 4 0
NEW YORK 000 000 100—5 1 1
Batteries—C. Davis, Root; Henshaw, Bryant and Hartnett; Hubbell and Mancuso.

MUNRO HITS CARDS
BROOKLYN, Sept. 11 (AP).—Van Lingle Mungo and his strikeout pitcher, the St. Louis Cardinals, another half game back of the National League lead today by stopping them in the nightcap of a double-header with the Dodgers.

The split, coming while the pace-setting Giants were winning their single start against the Cubs, dropped the Cards to four full games from first place.

Don Gutteridge, rookie third baseman, slammed out two homers, and a triple to drive in five runs as the Cards won the first game, 12-4.

Mungo's mates staged him to a one-run lead in the sixth inning, and that was enough to give him and the Brooklyn's a 5-4 decision in the afterpiece.

ST. LOUIS 020 003 302—12 16 1
BROOKLYN 000 201 005—8 17 4
Batteries—Walker, Ryba, Earnshaw and Osgoodowski; Butcher, Baker and Phelps.

PHILLIES TRIM REDS
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP).—The Phillies defeated Cincinnati 9-6, today in the first game of the series. Hallahan, who started in the first inning, was knocked out in the sixth inning when the Phils pushed over 100 runs to break a 5-5 tie and win.

BOSTON PIRATES WIN EASILY
BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates touched up first Bill Weir for five runs in the first inning and then pushed on to a 10-3 victory over the Bees today.

NEWARK, N.J., Sept. 11 (AP).—Newark Bears got back into the International League semi-final play-off tonight by downing the pennant-winning Buffalo Bisons, 2-0, in the third game of four-off-seven series behind Vito Tamulis.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
ST. PAUL, Sept. 11 (AP).—Ira Hutchinson pitched and batted the Saints to their first victory in the American Association play-off today as St. Paul defeated Indianapolis, 6-5, in eleven innings.

The teams now go to Indianapolis to conclude the best four-out-of-seven series there.

KANSAS CITY 003 020—4 10 1
Batteries—Heving, Hamlin and Brenzel; Niggeling, Evans and Madjeski.

COAST LEAGUE
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11 (AP).—Catcher Munro, a luzzing double, gave the San Francisco Seals a 7 to 5 win over San Diego here tonight. The two-bagger in the eighth inning, with the score tied 2-5, drove in Marty and Boia.

Munro's hit climaxed a display of timely batting by both teams.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES
By ALEX MORRISON

Of all the shots that need practice, putting seems to be the least favored. Even though it is more convenient to work on this part of the game is seldom practiced.

It is simple and easy to practice putting, and you can do it indoors or out, as you like. First of all, get the habit of starting with short putts.

Then as you find that you are hitting the ball properly, work away from the hole. The main thing to watch for in this practice is the spot or part of the clubface with which you are striking the ball.

All good putters strike the ball off the inner part of the clubface, that section closer to the shaft.

If you will make it a point to place the heel of the clubface opposite the middle of the ball and try to strike the ball with this spot, you can be sure of more consistency.

The next thing to watch is the position of your head. Make sure that your head does not turn or raise until well after the ball has been hit.

You can beat this by keeping your chin pointed back of the ball.

THE TUTTS... By Crawford Young

How It Started

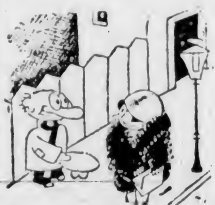

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY DO WE CALL THEM "MARIONETTES"?

It is a rare community that has not enjoyed marionette plays, many, indeed, preferring them to the flesh and blood variety.

Enthusiasm for this particular type of "show" has grown steadily from the days of long ago when it was first initiated in a relatively crude performance to the modern exhibition which requires almost no limitation in the way of histrionics or theatre.

The name "marionette" for this type of entertainment dates back to the middle ages when puppet plays were greatly appreciated, especially in connection with the church. The term is a diminutive of "marion".

"Spare a copper, me'arr. I am the author of the book 'A Dozen Ways of Becoming a Millionaire'."

"And you are begging?"

"That is one of the dozen ways."

—Caras y Caretas, Buenos Aires.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP PROBLEMS: THE GIRL WHOSE TWO BOY FRIENDS WERE UNWORTHY—THE WOMAN WHOSE HUSBAND IS A CHRONIC LOAFER AND PARASITE—THE FIANCEE WHOSE SO-CALLED GIRL FRIEND GAVE HER UNWHOLESOME ADVICE.

We're off for the round-up, and let's hope we have a good day for it.

For Bewildered: "I felt troubled over your letter and so want to offer a few lines of encouragement. I am sure you can overcome your condition. If you will take firm hold on courage and keep saying 'over and over again: I will get well for my husband's sake.' So many people have recovered health through right thinking and right eating—cheerful thoughts, wholesome food such as fruits, fresh vegetables, milk. Turn to the Great Physician to heal your mind and body. If you will do this, I know that you will win.—Florence A."

Distressed: "If you lost your 'other' boy friend because you conducted yourself as a clean-minded, wholesome young schoolgirl should, he was not worth the thought you squandered on him. And if you are 'holding' your present boy friend because you are acting 'just the opposite,' he must be a pretty cheap sort of a friend. Ladies are ladies, no matter what the day or age. Better lend an ear to your parents. Their advice is sound, as you will understand when the right man comes along."

C.B.R. and all others who have written for names and addresses. This column does not divulge the identity of its correspondents. The problems sent to it are presented when possible, but those who submit them must and do remain incognito.

Martha B.: I do not advise you to court the boys now or when you get older. Let the boys court you. As for the young man with 12 several years your senior, you need not consider his age, but you should take account of the fact that he cannot control his appetites and so is a bad bargain in either love or friendship. Try to think more about improving your education and less about boys. This is the time for you to cultivate your mind. The boy business should come later.

D.B.: If you care so much for the husband who is a chronic loafer and parasite, on the other hand, as well as on you, my advice is for you to accept the situation in silence and not go to others for the help you should give yourself. Never mind what I think of him or what anyone else thinks. It's what you think that will clear the middle or allow it to sink deeper into the mud.

For Sandra G.: "My guess is that you are not found attractive by men of your own age and now have succeeded by various subtle possibly unconscious tricks in making this older man aware of you. That he is married (and happy) might just prevent him from feeling a flare of enthusiasm for a young girl in close proximity to him. Why not make eyes at the next seven personable young men of your own age you meet and forget about some other woman's husband?—E.J.R."

Tillie: It is not necessary for me to answer and tell you 'what is right' when the man, who avows he loves you and will protect you, suggests immorality. What is more, the 'girl friend' who gave you such unwholesome advice is not your friend. With your marriage wife set it seems to me that both you and your future might control your emotions and come to your new life together with a clean slate.

P.S.E.: If the girl has informed the young man she does not love him, there is nothing he can do except maintain an attitude of friendship and if kindly treat her. Perhaps the mother and sister of the girl are to blame, but if there is nothing against the young man and the girl turns from him because of unjust criticism, she is not worth playing Cupid for. Maybe the young man is better than he thinks.

THE RETURN OF JOAN

by JOSEPH McCORD

CHAPTER XXVI

"Go on!" said Deeds.

Jess Kendall drew a deep breath before replying.

"When I got out on the porch . . . Doc Sloan seemed to be hanging . . . Gene out of the water! John waved to me . . . said something . . . I thought he wanted to phone and . . ."

But Deeds was already out the front door, with the Rev. Mr. Beckham close at his heels. They saw three figures on the sand at some little distance below the cottage, one of the three was prone, motionless. It was Gene Gaston.

Deeds caught one glimpse of the face, pillowed on a bare arm to keep the nose and mouth from the sand. He was startled to find himself thinking that Gene smiled.

Sloan Ellidge, grey wet hair hanging over his eyes, was astride Gene's slender form, applying artificial respiration with dogged persistence. John knelt close by, pudgy finger tips on Gene's wrist.

"He . . . he isn't . . . gone, is he?" Deeds choked.

"I fear he is . . . I fear he is poor chap . . ."

"But . . . how did it happen? How could it happen?"

Sloan took up the explanation in measured tones; there was no break in the rhythm of his relief measures. He did not raise his face. "Young Gaston heard us . . . stirring around early. Came over and asked . . . if he could join us . . . in the before-breakfast swim. He went in the water . . . a little ahead of us . . . swam out in deep water. John saw him go under . . . came up once before I got to him . . . I couldn't find him right away. Finally did and got ashore . . ."

His voice trailed away. Deeds and the clergyman watched Sloan in a species of fascination and for seemed a timeless interval. His labors appeared endless, fruitless. At last he rose to his feet and pushed the hair out of his eyes.

"Sorry," he announced. "No use. We can't stop! Deeds broke harshly. "We've got to save him here! I'll work. You show me how . . ."

Sloan stepped aside with a shrug. After a few murmured suggestions from John Ellidge, Deeds sculled down to his task grimly, his jaw set. His one idea was to maintain the fixed cadence that might start those lungs to functioning. He could not realize that the inert form under his hands was Gene . . . the Gene he had talked to such a few hours before. This couldn't be the answer to the boy's trouble . . . it wasn't fair. Joan wanted to help . . . she'd never forgive him, if he did not save Gene. They mustn't let him drift away like this . . .

His mind and body was working so mechanically that Deeds never knew how much time elapsed until he was conscious of Beckham's voice in his ear. Beckham's kindly hand on his shoulder.

"I'm afraid it's of no use, my boy. I've seen it too often . . . and these doctors know."

Sloan comprehending, Deeds allowed himself to be raised to his feet, where he stood gazing down dumbly into Gene's quiet face.

"His poor mother . . ." Beckham said softly.

"I guess you're the one for that job," Sloan suggested tersely. "Maybe you'd better do it before we bring him to the house. Ask Kendall to come down and help us, will you?"

The minister hesitated.

"I am not familiar with procedure here, of course . . . but it is not customary to leave a body for the authorities to examine? In case of accidental death, that is?"

"There should be no question," Sloan answered quickly, "with two registered physicians as witnesses. However, it makes no great difference. I dare say Kendall has been telephoning already."

"Unfortunately, the phone is out of order."

Beckham did not see the sharp glance sent him from the doctor's grey eyes. He had stooped down and was spreading his handkerchief carefully over Gene's face.

"Then that means a trip for some of us," Sloan suggested. "Young Gaston had a car. Why don't one of you take it and run up to Waples? I suppose you can drive." He was looking directly at Deeds.

"Sure. But the car's out of order, too," that young man told him quietly.

"You mean it won't run?"

"I mean it won't run."

"What is the trouble?"

"I'm sure I can't tell you."

"Well, it shouldn't be serious. He was using the machine right along. Gaston probably was like a lot of other drivers . . . don't know there's anything to a car but gas and air and a steering wheel. John . . . you've played around with motors a little. Why don't you drop over to the garage with McCune and see what you can do?"

"I will see the boy's family in the meantime," Beckham volunteered with a shake of his head. "Sad task."

Deeds wondered dully if he were playing a coward's part in making his way directly to the garage and avoiding seeing anybody . . . that meant Joan. It would be easier to meet her after she knew if only Beckham, or somebody, would tell her that he had done all he could to save Gene. If only she would believe. Deeds was beginning to be tortured by doubt.

Had he done everything in his power to save Gene?

Gaston wouldn't take him into his confidence, last night, when he tried to help the fellow. He couldn't force himself on Gene, but . . . Perhaps he should have insisted. Talked longer with him and tried a little harder. Who could have supposed the poor guy would find himself . . .

Washed up!

The words Gaston had used when he found his car wouldn't run. Was it some sort of ironic prophecy? Had some fear laid its hand on him even then?

Deeds still was mulling it over dependently when John Ellidge followed him into the garage.

"And here's the poor chap's car," the doctor sighed with a shake of his head. "Just as he left it. Sad. We're here today and gone tomorrow. He slumped heavily into the roadster and made an ineffectual attempt to start the motor. "Something wrong . . . something wrong."

Deeds watched him climb out and open the hood.

"Mr. McCune: will you be good enough to glance at the fuel gauge and see what it registers? I neglected to. That might be our source of trouble."

"She's got gas," Deeds did not move.

"You're sure of that?"

"Yes."

"Then we'll have to look farther . . . a little farther." Deeds could hear him whispering softly under his breath, but could not see clearly what the plump hands were doing. In another moment the doctor was back in the seat.

The motor turned over at the first touch and began its rhythmic beat. John raced it experimentally, then throttled it down to a subdued pulsation.

"There you are, my friend. All ready for the road."

"What was wrong?" Deeds demanded.

"A very little thing . . . but enough. Loose connection . . . one of the cables going into the distributor. They all should be gone over and tightened. But I think you will have no trouble between here and Waples."

Deeds' mind was working fast. He would take his oath that there was nothing wrong with that distributor head last night. It was one of the things he examined. Gene had accused someone of tampering with the car. Strange that Ellidge would know exactly where to look for the trouble and repair it so quickly . . . fool not to have watched him more closely. No time to go into that now.

"Will you ride with me?" he asked shortly.

"I'm afraid I had better stay," John told him regretfully. "That experience is likely to unnerve my brother completely . . . put him to bed. And it's just possible that some of the good women here will need my services. Mrs. Lindsay is the hysterical type, I fancy."

"I wonder where I should report it," Deeds remarked, making ready to start.

"I wouldn't have the faintest notion," replied John. "I don't know what officials there are in a place like Waples. I believe I would accost the first policeman I saw and tell him what happened. The main thing is to get someone here so that poor woman won't have to endure the thought of her son lying out there. And I must hurry back to Sloan. I will see you later."

Deeds lost little time in carrying out Ellidge's suggestion and getting the official machinery in motion. He was promised that prompt action would be taken. He waited only long enough to report the fact that the Layland Cottage telephone was out of order, then started the return journey.

His busy thoughts reviewed, every angle of the case, he was certain there was some connection between Gene's thwarted plans for an early trip and later developments. But what . . .

When he came out of the garage, after putting the car away, Deeds was startled at the sight of Joan standing on the kitchen porch waiting for him. Her face was pale but composed, her hands folded in front of her.

"Joan . . ." he began brokenly.

"I know what you would say," she said in a flat voice. "Please don't."

"I . . . tried to do something, Joan."

"Yes, I know. Mr. Beckham told me about . . . I'm grateful to you."
